

Rock Hero Holiday Club Tops The Charts!

This year's club was written and directed by ourselves! Thanks are therefore due to the planning group – mostly a group of some of our twenty-something young adults. And what a fantastic job they did with the unanimous verdict being that the Rock Hero Club was as good as we've ever known!

In total, we had 60 children in attendance and they went away each day having had a great fun day AND having had opportunity to learn something of Peter and of how his life was changed through becoming part of Jesus' band. As well as the main session every morning, this club featured two extra-curricular trips – a visit to the rock-climbing wall at Brechin Community Campus for the older children and a rock pooling adventure at the Victoria Park beach area for the younger ones. The club finale was a Rock Hero disco on the Friday night – possibly the best finish we've ever had to a club with most of the children coming and having a blast!

- Iain, who organized the high-spec technical arrangements
- Hilda, who ran the kitchen
- Those who supplied materials and made financial gifts
- Those who were ready to be inconvenienced in terms of other hall user activities being re-shuffled or cancelled
- And not least, all those who prayed for the success of the club

As well as thanking the planning team, thanks are due to:

- The volunteer team who gave up a week of holiday to make it happen

Here's to 2018!! Sneak preview; we're looking at a jungle theme!

The Havilah team at the Scottish Parliament where they were one of ten projects from across Scotland chosen to represent the community work done by churches across the country. Once again, an honour, and recognition for the tremendous work that is being done by our team.

We have two visiting preachers in the months of May and June. First will be Rev. Kenny Borthwick on 14th May, followed by Rev. Andrea Boyes on 4th June at Pentacost. See inside for more details.

May 2017

Dear Friends,

Elsewhere in this edition of QUEST you'll find an article which highlights the global campaign, Pledge2Pray. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, has thrown his weight behind this campaign, saying: "I cannot remember in my life anything that I've been involved in where I have sensed so clearly the work of the Spirit." You can watch the Archbishop's video message at: <https://youtu.be/4m9h3FoeXNA>

The campaign is set to run between two significant dates in the Christian calendar – Ascension Day and Pentecost (25th May till the 4th June.) As you'll see in the other article, this is a ten day period during which we are encouraged to pray for five people we know – whether family members, friends, colleagues etc. In an age when so few bother with church and so few subscribe to Christian faith, it is clear that we have a task on our hands if we are not to see the complete demise of the Church in this once-proud Christian land. In the last forty years, membership of the Kirk has fallen from 1.5 million members to little over 300,000. Other denominations are facing the same issues.

We need to become much better at inviting others to join us at church, that they might discover faith – and we should be confident to do so with research showing that many people when asked will respond positively! But whether they do or not is not our concern; all that we can do is issue invitations. Ultimately, it is God who touches hearts and that is why we must submit to Him in prayer – in particular, praying for those we'd love to see joining us on the Christian journey.

You can begin thinking and praying now about who these five people might be. Then, for that concerted ten day period, you'll join with others at St. Andrew's Church and across the world to pray for those individuals.

Tennyson wrote that, 'More is wrought by prayer than this world dreams of.' Let us dream BIG as we gear up for 'Pledge2Pray!'

With every blessing,

Martin and Elaine and family (inc. Flossie!)

Guest Preacher

Originally advertised as happening on 7th May, the Rev Kenny Borthwick will now be joining us on Sunday 14th May, as a guest at our morning service.

Kenny has been one of the most influential ministers within the Church of Scotland – and far beyond! – over the last twenty-five years. With an emphasis on renewal and openness to the Holy Spirit, Kenny built significant ministries first of all in Thurso and then in Wester Hailes in Edinburgh. But, as a hugely 'in demand' speaker, he travelled widely to champion Christian faith.

It was with much sadness that the Church learnt of Kenny's decision to retire early, in the second half of 2016. This was decision was essentially forced upon him by chronic and continuing poor health. Since then, he has largely been 'dormant,' trying to do as little as possible. All the more, then, we are thrilled that Kenny has been willing to come to Arbroath and to share with us some of what he has been through in recent times and how he has tried to come to terms with it and discern what God is up to in the midst of it.

This is going to be a memorable Sunday. Don't miss it!

And Another!

This year, Pentecost falls on 4th June – as always, seven weeks after Easter. That evening, we'll be putting on a Pentecost Special! It really is the birth-day of the Church and it's an occasion that requires us to throw a party.

With that in mind, we've invited the Rev Andrea Boyes as our guest speaker. Andrea is minister at Chalmers Church, Larkhall, and is undoubtedly one of the 'live wires' within the Church of Scotland. Her journey to becoming a minister is a remarkable story and absolutely worth hearing.

Come along then and be part of what's going to be a fantastic birthday party – and make sure that Andrea doesn't leave without seeing for herself what an Arbroath 'welcome' looks like!

Ask Theophilus

Question :

When I was in my teens I asked the Lord to be my Saviour. My pastor told me I must go home and tell my family and all my friends what I had done. He quoted Romans 10:10 to prove that one is only 'saved' when one 'confesses with the mouth'. So why did Jesus so often say to people he healed that they must not tell anyone?

Theophilus answers :

You are right, for in the Gospels we often read, 'Jesus sternly charged him and said to him, "See that you say nothing to anyone..."' (See Mark:1:43=Luke 5:14; Mark 5:43=Luke 8:56; Mark 8:26.) The simple answer to these instructions to some of those he healed to tell no one, is that Jesus knew news of such healings would stir up excitement, and, as we say today, a 'fan club' would rapidly grow. But he did not want 'fans', he wanted 'faith'; those two are chalk and cheese, as we say.

There is only one instance I can think of in the Gospels where Jesus told a man whom he had healed to 'Go home to your friends and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and how he has had mercy on you' (Mark 5:19=Luke 8:39). This was the incident of the demon-possessed man who lived among the tombs. Notice three important points about this story. First it took place in Samaritan territory. Second, the people there refused to let Jesus enter their town, but begged him to leave at once. Third, the sequel to this story is in Acts 8:4-8, where in the days of the young church, Philip went to evangelise this same area and was received with joy and a Christian church was founded; it has been suggested that the response to Philip's good news about Jesus was the fruit of the witness of that man whom Jesus had sent home to share with his friends what the Lord had done for him.

So what about your pastor's advice to go and tell everyone? We must be careful. Certainly Jesus spoke about acknowledging our faith in him before others (Luke 12:8). But as we take in the overall message of the Gospels we see that wisdom is needed as well as faithfulness. In Matthew 7:6, Christ's seemingly harsh saying, 'Do not throw your pearls before pigs' surely is counselling sensible and appropriate witnessing. The sister of a close friend of mine who was a rebellious teenager bringing heartache to all her family, came home late one evening and said to her mother, 'Mother, I gave my heart to Jesus tonight'. Her mother threw her arms around her daughter and said, 'Don't tell anyone and let's see who finds out first!' There was wise counsel!

David Searle.

7th Arbroath B.B.

We are now into the last few weeks of our BB calendar and are looking forward to our display and awards night.

On our last night before the Easter break we spent egg hunting in our church garden and then decorated hard boiled eggs to take home.

We are working on our display item which is a small drama. An invitation is extended to all our church family to come along to our display and awards night on 11th May at 7pm.

Our trip this year is to Auchengarrich Wildlife Farm near Comrie on Saturday 13th May. That is our last meeting of the year. We restart back in September.

Heart and Soul

This year will see the seventh 'Heart & Soul' event, the celebration day of the Church of Scotland which takes place in Edinburgh to coincide with the General Assembly of the Church.

The venue is as always Princes Street Gardens – with the castle as the stunning backdrop – and as in previous years, crowds upwards of 5,000 are expected. The event runs from 1pm to 6pm on the afternoon of 21st May and culminates in a worship service led from the iconic Ross Bandstand. Before that, there really is something for everyone – bands and performers, marquees and displays, workshops and seminars and most of all, opportunity to mix and mingle with fellow Christians from all across Scotland!

Given the start time, our service on the 21st will begin at 10.30pm and will be shorter than normal to allow for a prompt departure at 11.30am. You only need to take yourself. Food stalls are available while some prefer to take a picnic. Tickets for the bus, which are £10, can be booked at the Church Office. The event itself is free!

Church Family Trip - Edzell

This year, our annual trip is to Edzell. This follows our successful trip to Edzell last year, which followed many years going to Wellbank.

The event is for everyone and anyone connected with St. Andrew's, young and old. There are races and activities for the children, a BBQ and, most important, an afternoon of relaxing in the company of our brothers and sisters from the Church!

The trip takes place on Sunday 25th June. Folks can travel independently or on the bus, which leaves from outside the Church at 1.30pm. Departure from Edzell is at 5pm. Tickets can be bought from the Church Office (family ticket options are available.)

GUILD NEWS

Phew! April saw the end of an other busy Guild Session. Our syllabus has been quite varied - sometimes harrowing, informative and often fun. Internationally we heard about Haiti (one of the poorest countries in the world) and we had a speaker from CHAS telling us about the great work they do here in Scotland. We also had African Drums and Hoola Hoops! If you want to find out more come along to our next session in September. All welcome.

Our AGM was on 17th April when Martin came along to oversee business matters and give our members kind words of encouragement for their hard work throughout the year. Two members stepped down from the Management Committee but as always there is someone willing to take their place, bringing new ideas and enthusiasm to our group.

We also had the good task of deciding where we would donate monies raised this session:

Guild Projects -

Let's stick together - Care for the Family - £500.00

Mission International in Haiti - £500.00

St.Andrews Church for heating and lighting - £400.00

Dalitso Project - for our child, Paul, in Malawi - £120.0

CHAS, Seema's Children and Release International (Scot.) £50.00 each - £150.00

We have also been collecting childrens tee-shirts to send to Rwanda in June.

A Reminder to the congregation that the Christian Aid coffee morning is on the 20th May 2017. Our church has been given the task of serving teas this year. Guild members are serving on that day but donations of tea, sugar, milk etc are always needed. Watch out for further information in weekly bulletin on Sundays.

A Big Thank you to everyone who had a Church Guild Box this year. When this article was written the great sum of almost £900 was raised. Which just proves the old sayings "pennies makes pounds and mighty oaks from little acorns grow". Thanks also to Joyce McPherson, Box Convenor, who oversees the distribution, collecting and counting of the boxes.

Our Guild Trip is to Banchory Garden Centre - followed by a meal in Stonehaven. Date: Saturday, 10th June 2017. Again please look out for details in Church Bulletin on Sundays nearer the time.

Once I have sent this article I will be organising things for our final Fund Raiser for the session - a coffee morning with lots of different things for sale. This was on Saturday, 22nd April - hope some of you managed to come along.

Another busy and successful year, I think. Thanks to all our members and friends who have supported us throughout this year. Our membership has actually risen, rather bucking the trend at the present time around the country. Thanks again. Please keep up the good work and look out for our start date in September.

"Whose we are and whom we serve"

Dalitso News

In Malawi we are now nearing harvest-time and the maize at our two centres is continuing to grow well. Thyolo had the first rainfall and the rain stopped earlier meaning that the maize in Thyolo is drying out now and becoming ready for harvest. It should be ready by the end of April or early May. At Kambilonjo, where the rain was later to start and later to end, it is a little further behind Thyolo and so will probably not be ready for harvesting until late May, early June. Thank you to all who have been praying for the harvest. - it seems that we will manage to have a good harvest and the American Army Caterpillars seem to have been kept at bay.

By the time you read this we will have held our first AGM, marking a year of the Dalitso Project. Alongside this we had a meal to allow our supporters to meet together and share their involvement in the charity. On 16th June we have another get together opportunity as we are holding a Quiz Night. More details will be available nearer to the time.

Again, can we remind you that we are now collecting presents to be taken over in the summer by our team of 7. The deadline for this is the 21st May. These are to include a Smart Shirt/ Blouse or Dressy Top, small packet of Haribo, a small toy to the value of £1 to £2 and a letter to your child. There are still children who require sponsorship and still time to get involved in time for sending this summer, so please see Sheila or email me at info@dalitso.org for more information on our Sponsorship Programme.

Keeping His House In Good Order

Just when you think you are getting on top of things, there always seems to be more to do! For some time now, the Fabric Group has been concerned by the continuing damp at the Fire Exit corner of the small halls. Various remedies have been tried over many years but the time has now come for a major overhaul of the roof in that area. We are currently obtaining quotes and these could be for quite significant sums.

Another area of concern is the deteriorating flooring in the halls where cleaning water seeps between the seams and eventually begins to lift the edges. A year ago, over several evenings, many hours were spent in the main hall successfully halting the decline in the worst areas at the kitchen end. However, a year on, the store end is now deteriorating rapidly. An attempt will now be made to repair this as well but, if not successful, another large bill could be in the offing.

Many other repair and improvement works have been carried out in past months by our DIY team, so please keep them in your prayers and please be patient and forbearing as we strive to maintain our buildings as economically as possible.

Summer Evenings

To give everyone ample opportunity to refresh over the course of the summer holiday period, there will be a break from evening worship services. That will mean that folks can worship in the morning and then be free from other responsibilities or commitments for the rest of the day.

In God's plan, there is a day of rest – the Sabbath – each week. But we should also think in terms of a Sabbath season in the year. For many, the best opportunity for that is over the summer.

Our hope is that everyone will return from such a break refreshed and revitalized and rarin' to go for a new season of worship!

Our new schedule of evening worship has got off to a great start with strong attendances and many people commenting on their enjoyment of the variety of styles of service on offer. We'll return to this programme on Sunday 20th August with the final service of this session being held on Sunday 18th June (Our Family Trip takes place on the 25th.)

Pledge 2 Pray

Pledge2Pray is part of a global Christian initiative taking place over the period from Ascension to Pentecost – Thursday 25th May to Sunday 4th June. The idea is for Christians to pray for just 5 friends, family, acquaintances, or others to come to know the Lord Jesus Christ.

St Andrew's Church is part of this initiative and prayer groups are being set up with some specific activities inside and outside the church including prayer walks, prayer meetings, and creative prayer activities.

The big question is: How difficult is it to pray?

Would you agree that prayer does not always come very easily? Even King David had periods in his life when he found that his non-communication with his heavenly Father, simply led to his own anguish. (Psalm 39).

Pledge2Pray is also designed to assist when prayer is difficult!

Prayer can be an intensely personal and private activity. In Matthew's gospel Chapter 6 verse 6 the Lord is instructing the listeners to "go into your room, close the door and pray to your Father who is unseen."

Some may say "I just like praying on my own!" This is understandable; however sometimes we need help from others or even just one other Christian friend. In James Chapter 5 verse 6 we are encouraged "to confess our sins to each other and pray for each other."

Then there is the encouragement to the disciples in Matthew Chapter 18 verse 19 "that if two of you on earth agree

Election 2017 Hustings

It was Archbishop Desmond Tutu who said, 'I am puzzled by which Bible people are reading when they suggest that religion and politics don't mix.' Of course, when politics is concerned with justice AND equality of opportunity AND fairness AND the relationship between rich and poor, AND decisions which lead to war or peace, then it is perfectly obvious that the Bible speaks to all of it!

Christians, then, need to be thoroughly involved in the political process – making themselves aware of what different about anything you ask for, it will be done for you by my Father in heaven. For where two or three come together in my name, there am I with them."

Yet there are also circumstances when corporate prayer amongst greater numbers is a natural and urgent response. After the Ascension Luke writes in Acts Chapter 1 that the disciples returned to the upper room where they were staying in Jerusalem and "they all joined together constantly in prayer, along with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus and with his brothers."

These are only a few New Testament examples and follow countless prayers and petitions to God in the Old Testament.

So, Pledge2Pray is going to be a wonderful opportunity for us to pray for our friends AND for us to become more comfortable and confident in prayer. Our website, Facebook page and bulletins will carry exact details in the days leading up to the beginning of the campaign.

parties stand for and, where appropriate, bringing pressure to bear on those who wield political power and influence.

It's for those reasons that we've held a 'Hustings' meeting at both Holyrood and Westminster elections in recent times. The calling of this election by the Prime Minister caught everyone off guard but we lost no time in organising an event to which all of the candidates for the Angus East constituency are invited. This is YOUR CHANCE to ask them the questions that matter to you, not least in terms of what matters to you as a Christian!

The Hustings meeting is scheduled for Wednesday 31st May, with a 7.30pm start.

Tearfund Spring Sessions

By the time you read this, Tearfund's Spring Sessions concert will be almost upon us! Here's what you'll find on Tearfund's website on this subject:

'This Spring, Tearfund are partnering with the New Scottish Hymns Band, to bring you a fantastic evening of homegrown worship music by some of Scotland's finest Christian musicians and singer/songwriters.

New Scottish Hymns is a gospel-hearted music ministry, influenced by Scottish folk melodies and the best of traditional hymn-writing. Since 2012, they have been writing and performing new music for the Scottish church and have produced two widely popular albums. Their passion is for the church to have more songs that help people from different backgrounds and cultures unite under a common theme, the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

In 2016, Ellyn Oliver, one of the lead singers in the New Scottish Hymns Band visited Tearfund's work in Malawi. She is excited to share with you about Tearfund's work, as well as providing you with an evening of great music and fun.'

The great news is that the first night of this Spring tour is taking place in our Church!!! You are strongly encouraged to come along to enjoy the evening and to give Tearfund and the visiting musicians the warmest possible welcome to Arbroath and the biggest possible encouragement at the beginning of their journey.

Tickets can be got through Tearfund's online agents or at our Church Office.

STAMP APPEAL 2016-17

2016-17 has marked yet another bumper year for stamp and postcard donations. Almost four kilos of used stamps have been sent off to be shared in roughly equal measure with: The Church of Scotland World Mission; Mercy Ships; and Leprosy Mission (Scotland).

This year's World Mission Stamp Appeal will go to support the work of The Giffen Institute of Theology of the Presbyterian Church of South Sudan which has now relocated to a refugee camp in Kenya. Having had to flee the continuing war and violence in South Sudan, and having already relocated twice, GIT's books and resources have been lost and destroyed on the way to their new base in Kenya. This year's appeal will be devoted to helping rebuild their library collection and other vital resource materials.

In 2016, the World Mission Stamp Appeal raised an amazing £4,334 for the Church of Scotland's partner church in South India.

Mercy Ships UK's floating hospital ship, the Africa Mercy, has just spent ten months service in Congo where volunteer medical teams carried out 9,816 surgical procedures and other therapies, 28,561 dental treatments and 20,726 eye surgeries, all free to those in greatest need.

Leprosy Mission work is ongoing, supporting patients with a devastating and life-limiting illness and helping them live lives to the full in cultures where victims are often shunned by society.

Special thanks must go to David Watson once more taking on the lion's share of trimming and helping to sort the many thousands of stamps. So, thank you, David, for your patience - and perseverance!

So, taking all of the above into account, who would have thought that a wee used stamp could play such a vital role and pack such a punch? Maybe there is a parable in there somewhere.

So here's to the next bumper harvest!

Dear Martin,

Thank you very much for the very generous donation for £660 raised at the visit to St Andrew's Parish Church by the Bellshill Salvation Army Band at Christmas time. Thank you for your support in raising so much money. Please also pass on our grateful thanks to your Congregation for their support for Seema's Project.

It is amazing that, through support from people and organisations like yourselves, in less than two years an empty plot of land has been transformed in to a children's home. Some of the older boys are already living there and are attending the local school. The plan is to move the other younger children to their new home at the start of the school holidays in May.

Up to date photographs of the home and the children are available on our website
